

Bowman History Book Order Form

The Placer County Historical Foundation (PCHF), as part of their Bowman Project, has funded the production of a book on the history of the Bowman Area, northeast of Auburn.

Bowman had its own Post Office in 1893 and a school in 1895 and even its own ZIP (95707) in the 1960s. The area is named after early settler and fruit grower Harry Bowman. Bowman developed from a rural fruit farming area to the suburban community it is today.

The Bowman book is a 132-page history, with color throughout, of the Bowman area featuring over 400 photos and other images. Coauthors of the book are Donna Howell, Rodi Lee, Michael Lynch and Karri Samson, who researched and wrote the book over a two-year period. Subjects include the Bowman/Ackerman School, prominent first settlers and their decedents still living in the area, early enterprise, including agriculture, mines, auto camps, civic groups, public agencies, and developments like Hollendale and Train Villages.
